VARSITY WINS ANOTHER GAME

The Quaker Team Goes Down Before the Orange and Blue.

THE GAME WAS AN EXCITING ONE

And Up to the Eighth Inning the Result Hung in the Balance-Carley's Hit Scored the Two Winning Runs for Virginia.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., April 18-Special.—The University of Pennsylvania suffered defeat again to-day at the hands of the boys who twice defeated Yale. The contest was close and exciting, the of the boys who twice defeated Yale. The contest was close and exciting, the Quakers putting up a much better article of ball than on yesterday.

In fact, the state of affairs was such at the close of the eighth inning that the society belies in the grand stand found it necessary to send their escorts out to the bleacheries to assist their fellow students in the rooting.

THE WINNING HIT.

The score was then a fie-4 to 4-and when Curley, Virginia's plucky little second baseman, lined out a slashing single to centrefield, sending Hunt and Wills across the plate with the winning runs, pandemonium broke loose and hats and pandemonium broke loose and hats and canes were flung to the air. The hit meant another victory for Virginia, for meant another victory for Virginia, for in her half Pennsylvania went out in one, two, three order. Virginia's other runs were made in the first inning.

HOW THEY PLAYED.

Wills was given a base on balls and Curley hit to centre, sending Wills to third. Nalle was hit, and with the bases full Taylor hit a hot one to centre and thee men scored. Taylor tailled later on Martin's fly to Frazler.

Captain Gillender on first and Frazler in right carried off the fielding honors for Pennsylvania. Hayden led in the batting, securing three singles.

For the orange and blue, Hunt and Wills was the fielding honors and Curley and Taylor did the batting. Hunt at third bag put up a brilliant game, accepting ten chances, many of the difficult ones.

the game for Washington, where they play Georgetown to-morrow. play Georgetown
